Title: Revolutionizing WhatsApp Business: Empowering Small and Medium Enterprises (SMEs) with Integrated Payments

Introduction (Objective and Background)

With the global digital payments market expected to grow by 9.52% from 2014 to 2028 (Statista, 2011), we are seeking additional funding of RM50,000 to develop and integrate an in-app payment system into WhatsApp Business.

Body (Problem / Issue)

The primary challenge is the lack of integrated payment capabilities. Many SMEs that use WhatsApp Business report that complicated payment processes negatively impact customer experience and retention. To remain competitive, WhatsApp Business must meet the growing demand for seamless digital payments within the app itself.

Body (Solution)

We propose developing a user-friendly payment integration for WhatsApp Business. According to Shape, a financial payment company, the estimated cost of developing a payment gateway for WhatsApp Business is RM120,000. We already have RM10,000 from investors and require an additional RM50,000 to bring the project to completion. Our revenue model involves charging a 1% transaction fee, compared to the 1.5%–3.5% fees charged by other digital payment platforms. On average, this lower fee structure will attract more SMEs.

Financial Justification

Based on market trends and projected SME adoption, we expect RM80,000 in revenue from transaction fees in the first year. This would allow us to return the RM50,000 investment within five months. Additionally, we anticipate that our 1% transaction fee will increase SME engagement by 30%, generating steady monthly profits of RM2,000 by the sixth month. This growth positions us for ongoing profitability while making WhatsApp Business even more popular among SMEs globally.

Conclusion

In conclusion, we invite you to join us in transforming WhatsApp Business into an all-in-one platform for SMEs worldwide. This is a smart investment with the potential to generate substantial returns.
